

GOVT. MAKES PLANS TO MAINTAIN TRANSPORTATION

CARL, BEATEN, TRIED SUICIDE MON. EVENING

Orders of Regent Hor- thy Dispel Rebel- lious Troops.

Budapest, Oct. 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Former Emperor Charles whose attempt to re-establish himself on the Magyar throne met with dismal failure yesterday, attempted to commit suicide by shooting, following his arrest near Komorn. Former Empress Zita saw him preparing to shoot himself, and prevented him from carrying out his intention.

The former emperor and empress are now prisoners in the Esterhazy castle at Tata Tovaros, and Thomas Beaumont Hohler, British high commissioner in Hungary, is hurrying there with the representatives of other nations to insure the safety of the prisoners.

Orders sent to the rebellious troops supporting Charles by Admiral Horthy, the Hungarian regent, spelled the doom of Charles' attempt to regain at least a part of his former empire. The regent reminded the soldiers of their oath of allegiance to him and demanded their unconditional obedience, adding that the success of their undertaking would mean the ruin of the country. The firm stand of Admiral Horthy, had its effect and the Royalist forces scattered, seeming to vanish into thin air. Latest advices from the section of country around Komorn, indicated the government troops continued their pursuit of the Royalists, and that the Karlstadt premier, M. Rakovsky and Count Andrássy were among the supporters of the former monarch captured by the loyal troops.

Swiss Through With Him
Charles' plan to return to the Hungarian throne having failed, the Hungarian government will probably await action by the allied powers, regarding his future place of residence. It is known that Switzerland will not again give him refuge and it is possible that he will be removed to some place where he will be a virtual prisoner of the allied powers.

The advisability of internment Charles in the abbey of Thany until the allies finally decide his fate was being discussed by the government today. The abbey is located near Lake Balaton, about sixty miles southeast of Budapest.

Paris, Oct. 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—The allied policy for the future treatment of former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary has been decided only as to one point—that he must be put in a position where he will be absolutely unable to again disturb the tranquility of Europe. It was declared in French official circles today. His internment in Hungary is accepted by the allies only as a temporary necessity.

The council of ambassadors which will be charged with the question of dealing with the former ruler at its next meeting probably will take up the problem of providing him with a home where his security and the tranquility of Europe so far as any menace to it from him is concerned, will be equally assured.

Want No More Worry
Little fear of a third attempt by Charles to regain the Hungarian throne is entertained here, but it is pointed out that as long as the emperor is not definitely eliminated from the situation his return may be dictated by political parties and led to intrigues. The desire is to put an end once for all to such possibilities.

The exile of Charles to a remote island, which has been suggested, is proving objections based on the idea that it would exaggerate the importance of his case and admit of clamorous intervention by the exiled Napoleon I. Such action, therefore, it is argued, would be likely to gain sympathy for his cause rather than discourage his friends.

On the other hand, great difficulty is anticipated in finding a country willing to extend hospitality to the ex-emperor and become responsible for him, as he is regarded as having broken his word with Switzerland by leaving that country without giving the previous notice he had promised. An alternative solution suggested is that he be kept in a fortress until the political situation in Europe has been stabilized so that the danger of further attempts at a restoration will be minimized.

THREE STORES IN NORTH DIXON ROBBED IN NIGHT

Hungry Tramps Be- lieved to Have Been Seeking Food.

The Chiverton meat market, the Sproul grocery and the Electric Shoe Shop on North Galena avenue were entered some time after midnight, according to reports at the police station this morning. The work, which the police believe was done by tramps, was evidently deliberate and for the primary purpose of securing something to eat.

At the meat market about 150 pennies were taken from the cash drawer and someologna sausage is missed. At the Sproul grocery the intruders doubtless spent the most time. They selected articles from the stock, opening canned goods and partaking of a substantial meal, after which they took about two dollars in small change and departed.

In the shoe shop, the parties over-looked some small change which was in the open cash register. A 45 caliber Colt automatic revolver was found lying in the middle of the floor this morning with a pair of red topped gloves. Three pairs of rubber heels was all that was missed from the shoe repair shop.

In each of the three places entrance was gained by opening rear windows in the stores. Screens and gratings were removed at the Chiverton market and the Sproul store.

Parole Officer to Take Forger Back to State Penitentiary

State Parole Officer Bert Carter arrived in Dixon last evening from Rock Island on his regular monthly trip of inspection in the county and also to investigate the case of Harry J. Martin, better known here as Jack Martin, who was arrested last week for passing two bad checks at the Gelsenheimer store.

Sheriff Schoenholz this morning received a letter from the state board of pardons, showing Martin's criminal record. He was received at the Joliet state penitentiary from Kan-kakee county, after pleading guilty to a forgery charge and sentenced to from 1 to 14 years. He is now paroled for the third time. He was last paroled from the penitentiary on June 1, of this year to Charles Trotter of the Reynolds Wire Company in this city.

The parole officer is investigating the case and will take Martin back to Joliet, while his case will go to the state board of pardons for further investigations.

Dix Arraigned on Jail Escape Charge

Fred C. Dix was taken from the county jail this morning before Justice Martin Gannon, where his preliminary hearing for escaping from the Lee county jail was started. Dix was represented by his attorney, Sherwood Dixon and Lloyd Scribner, the state's attorney appearing for the prosecution.

Sheriff Schoenholz, Deputy Robert Phillips and Turnkey John Gaffney were questioned at some length, and the hearing was continued until tomorrow. Sheriff Schoenholz testified that he was out of the city at the time that Dix was taken to the jail and again when he escaped. He also stated that he had never seen a mitimus for the incarceration of the prisoner.

Dix was present in court but appeared to pay very little attention to the proceedings. He is suffering intense pain from an abscess in his left ear, for which he has been receiving treatment in the county jail.

Standard time was established in 1883.

BEER EVERYWHERE-- EXCEPT ILLINOIS-- UNDER NEW RULING

Treasury Dept. Permits Beer for Medicinal Purposes.

BULLETIN
By Associated Press Leased Wire

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 25.—State laws will still keep Illinois as beerless as before, according to announcement at the Attorney General's office this morning, following the issuance yesterday of Secretary Mellon's regulations, permitting manufacture and use of beer for medicinal purposes.

Attorney General Brandage issued the following statement:
"The regulation issued yesterday by Secretary of Treasury Mellon which permits the sale of wine and beer on prescriptions will not have any effect in the state of Illinois."

"Section 8 of the Illinois prohibition act provides that:
"It shall be unlawful to prescribe wine, beer or any alcoholic malt liquor. Not more than a total quantity of one pint of intoxicating liquor shall be prescribed for use by the same person, within any period of ten days and no prescription shall be filled more than once and no person shall procure or accept or have filled any prescription for more than one pint of liquor within said period of ten days."

Penalty Is Severe.
"The penalty for the violation of the above act is not less than $100, nor more than $1,000, or imprisonment not less than sixty days, nor more than six months for the first offense, and for a subsequent offense the punishment is not less than $500, nor more than $1,500 fine or imprisonment in the penitentiary not less than one, nor more than two years."

"No permits have been issued by me under the Illinois prohibition act authorizing any physician to prescribe or any druggist to fill a prescription of wine or beer for medicinal purposes, and I have no authority to issue any such permits. Any physician prescribing the same or any druggist filling such a prescription is liable, under the terms of the law, to punishment of fine and imprisonment and his permit issued under the Illinois prohibition act is subject to revocation, wholly regardless of any federal statute or regulation of the Treasury Department. I think that the Illinois prohibition act must be held to be a complete independent statute on the subject of the regulation of the liquor traffic."

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Oct. 25.—Beer, as a medicine, enjoys full legal status today through the unexpected action of the Treasury Department in promulgating regulations permitting its use for that purpose.

Issued in accordance with opinion submitted by former Attorney General Palmer last March 3, holding the medicinal use of beer to be legal under the prohibition law and after being withheld since then in anticipation of early action by congress on the pending anti-beer measure announcement of the beer regulations came as a complete surprise to prohibition leaders. In making known their promotion Secretary Mellon declared the department was unable to withhold the regulations longer "in view of the plain legal rights of the parties concerned."

Prediction an immediate reaction to the treasury's announcement in the direction of increased pressure to effect enactment of the anti-beer bill, dry advocates in and out of congress did not conceal their disapproval of the department's action. Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, described it as "less defensible than at any other time," while Senator Willis, Republican, of Ohio, joint author of the anti-beer bill, characterized it as an "outrage, utterly indefensible."

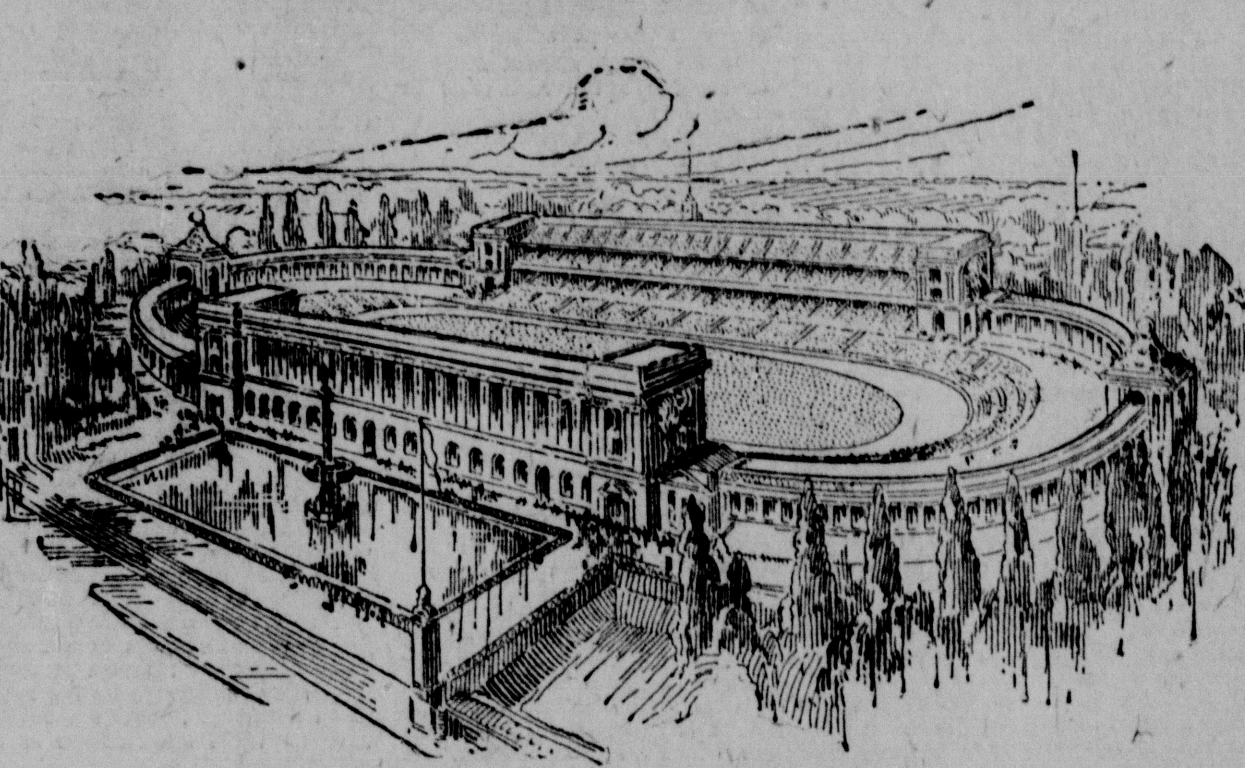

While the new rules, covering comprehensively the use of wine and spirituous liquors as medicines as well as beer, fix limit of 2 1/2 gallons, the equivalent of a case, on the amount of beer that may be prescribed to the same person at one time, no arbitrary limit is placed on the number of prescriptions one person may obtain within a given period.

Except that the amount for a single prescription is limited to a single quart, the wine regulations are the same, while spirituous liquors are limited to one pint within any ten day period.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Reward of $5,000 to any person bringing in "dead or alive" any one of the three automobile bandits who late last night held up a United States mail truck in New York was offered today by Postmaster General Hays.

New York, Oct. 25.—Three automobile bandits who held up a United States mail truck in lower Broadway late last night, escaping with four pouches of registered mail, were being sought by the police and post-office inspectors today.

Postal authorities said they were unable to fix the value of the stolen mail, much of which had originated in the Wall Street district. One of the inspectors on the case, however, was reported to have told city detectives the pouches contained about $1,000,000 in money and negotiable paper. Other estimates fixed the value of the haul around $100,000.

Frank Havranick, driver of the truck, was detained by the police to look over suspects expected to be brought in as the result of a city-wide alarm, sounded a half hour before the holdup.

Reports to the postoffice department were said to indicate that so far as was known the loot of the bandits did not exceed $50,000. The full strength of the department's inspection force was at work attempting to clear up the case.

House Took Prompt Action on Fund Act

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Oct. 25.—Prompt action was taken by the house on the bill for refunding the ten billions of war debts of foreign nations due the United States, the measure being passed yesterday and sent to the senate by a vote of 199 to 117. Final action was taken after a proposal had been rejected for congress to have the right to review the acts of the commission, headed by the secretary of the treasury, which the bill creates for directing the refunding.

Each of the two center stands is to be 500 feet long, 160 feet deep and 100 feet high. Within each of these stands there is to be a hall, to be known respectively as the East Memorial Hall and the West Memorial Hall. In these halls are to be placed the memorial columns and tablets dedicated to the Illinois dead. There will be a quarter mile track and a 220 yard straightaway within the Stadium in addition to the football field and baseball diamond. Construction of the center stands will begin during the summer of 1922 and will be completed in about one year.

Seven hundred thousand dollars of the amount needed for the recreation field has already been subscribed by the student body. The remaining funds are to be subscribed by the 42,000 alumni in a nation-wide drive which will be put on during the first week in November.

SEEK EXPULSION OF TEXAS CONGRESSMAN BECAUSE OF REMARKS

Violation of Confidence of Fellows is Charged.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, Oct. 25.—Expulsion from the house of representatives of Representative Thomas L. Blanton, Democrat of Texas, was called for in a resolution introduced by Representative Mondell, the Republican leader.

The ground for the move to expel was publication in the congressional record as part of an extension of remarks by Blanton of an affidavit relating to a row at the government printing office which affidavit was characterized by some house members as obscene and unfit for transmission through the mails.

In Blanton's absence consideration of the resolution was deferred until Thursday.

The resolution offered by Mr. Mondell follows:
"Whereas, Thomas L. Blanton, representative from the Seventeenth District of the State of Texas, did on October 4, 1921, ask unanimous consent to extend his remarks in the congressional record 'upon the improvement in the government printing office,' which consent was granted by the house; and

"Whereas, under such permission the said Thomas L. Blanton did insert and cause to be printed in the congressional record for Saturday, Oct. 22, 1921, grossly indecent and obscene language unworthy of a member of the house of representatives, contrary to the rules of the house, derogatory to the dignity of the house;

ELGIN COLORED BOY VICTIM OF MOB OF WHITES

Badly Burned By Hot Tar Applied By Gang of 30.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Elgin, Ill., Oct. 25.—Preston Johnson, sixteen year old negro boy of 405 North Gifford street, Elgin, is in a serious condition today as the result of a "tar and feather" party Sunday night.

Physicians attending Johnson state that burns from hot tar used by a gang of thirty local men, together with the shock of the incident, have made him critically ill.

According to the best information Johnson was taken for an automobile ride with two "friends" Sunday evening. The trio on the way home was stopped by the waiting gang just west of town where the tar heating apparatus of a street repair company is stationed. Johnson was forcibly removed from the automobile, forced to disrobe and was given a coating of hot tar into which feathers were smeared.

The story which Johnson tells goes on to say that he was told to leave town and not come back upon threats of death. A taxicab was called by one of the gang and Johnson placed therein.

The report that Johnson had assaulted a 13-year-old white girl several weeks ago is said to have given the mob its incentive for staging the "tar party."

ATTY. GENERAL AND ASSISTANTS HAD CONFERENCE

Union and Road Heads Prepare for Meet- ing in Chicago.

BULLETIN.
By Associated Press Leased Wire

Cincinnati, Oct. 25.—Notice was sent from the national headquarters here today of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Station and Express Employees, numbering more than 200,000 members, that the organization is not in sympathy with the proposed railway strike and members are ordered not to obey the order to cease work.

BULLETIN.
Cleveland, Oct. 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Notwithstanding the railroad labor board has cited has all general chairmen of the "Big Five" railroad transportation organizations to appear before the board tomorrow, Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, today said he had notified the general chairmen of his organization they need not respond to the citation.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Oct. 25.—Final details of the government's strike program, designed to assure "transportation for people who travel and transportation of food and fuel," were being worked out today, at a conference between Attorney General Daugherty and five federal district attorneys from as many great railroad centers. As a result of the meeting which was continued from yesterday, it was expected that instructions would be sent to other district attorneys which would serve to guide them if the threatened strike materialized.

The district attorneys called here by Mr. Daugherty included Hayward of New York, Clyde of Chicago, Wertz of Cleveland, Lockwood of Buffalo and Van Nuy of Indianapolis. They came, the attorney general announced "to discuss fully, the plans of the department in the event of a strike."

Cleveland, Oct. 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—W. S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers today denied reports that he has advised the general chairmen of the engineers that they need not respond to the citation of the railroad labor board to appear before the board in Chicago tomorrow, by making public telegrams exchanged between Chairman R. M. Barton of the board and the "Big Five" executives.

Chairman Barton last night wired President Stone that the board's order included the general chairmen. The reply sent this morning by the five executives, advises Chairman Barton that it is "evident you have statements of the several executives confessed," and explains that the general chairmen of the engineers have no authority to act on matters pertaining to settlement of the proposed strike, this authority being invested in the grand officers and the executive committee only.

The reply to Chairman Barton's message follows:

Brotherhood's Reply.
"Very evident that you have statements of the several executives confessed. Mr. Lee stated it would require action of chairmen and committees on individual roads. Sheppard, Carter, Cashen and Stone stated the executive committees and grand officers had full power to represent them and make satisfactory settlement. We have notified executive committees to be present. We are also advised you are calling in chairmen of all short line and electric roads. For what purpose we do not know as these men are not involved in present controversy. They are asking for instructions what to do and we are not replying. We understand the board will reimburse them for time lost, railroad fare and expenses."

The message to Chairman Barton was signed by all of the "Big Five" leaders—President Stone; W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers; L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors and Thomas C. Cashen, president of the Switchmen's Union of North America.

This was one of the first telegrams dispatched by the "Big Five" executives after going into conference this morning.

to its dignity and in violation of its confidence, therefore be it:
Resolved, that L. E. said Thomas L. Blanton, by his conduct as aforesaid, has forfeited all right to sit as a representative in the Sixty-Seventh Congress and is hereby expelled and declared to be no longer a member of this house.

On the conclusion of the reading of the resolution, Mr. Mondell announced that Representative Blanton's office had been notified it would be introduced. "But he did not answer to his name," Mr. Mondell said. "Is the gentleman from Texas present?" he asked.

There was no response. "This is a very serious matter," the Republican leader continued, "but it does not appear to be seemly to proceed with its consideration in his absence."

Called Up Thursday.

Mr. Mondell then gave notice that he would call up tomorrow at 10 o'clock the suggestion of Representative Garrett of Tennessee, Democratic leader, the time for a vote on the resolution was fixed for noon, Thursday.

Another resolution for Blanton's expulsion was prepared by Representative McLaughlin, Republican of Nebraska, and was about to be dropped into the house hopper when Mr. McLaughlin was informed that one would be presented by Mr. Mondell.

The Nebraska resolution charged that publication of the offending affidavit in the Record "made it unlawful," and also made members of congress "liable to criminal prosecution and punishment," if they knowingly had caused it to be mailed.

An announcement was made that the Texas delegation would meet tomorrow to act on the Blanton case. There was a suggestion from some Democrats that the resolution of expulsion be amended to censure only.

COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOLS ASSN. PLANS SESSION

Annual Meeting to Be Held in Franklin Grove in May.

Sunday afternoon a most enjoyable meeting took place in the parlors of the Dixon Y. M. C. A. when State Worker Clarence L. DeWitt of Jacksonville met with workers and friends of the Lee County Sunday School Association. The occasion was one of the regular County Council meetings. The County organization has five auxiliary district organizations which cover the entire county, and the officers of these, with the county officers, make up the county council.

Mr. DeWitt gave a very interesting and helpful address, full of suggestions for the workers, and took frequent part in the discussions. He said a change for the better became quite noticeable in Sunday School work last February, after the lower time following the war, and that a fine spirit of improvement is now evident throughout the state. The program for County Associations today is the best ever devised by International leaders.

The invitation of Franklin Grove for the next County Sunday School Convention, was accepted, and the date set for Tuesday and Wednesday, May 23-24, 1922. Tentative dates for district conventions were arranged, subject to action of local committees. A county financial campaign was planned, and other business of importance was transacted.

All the county officers were present except two who are out of the county, and all of the districts were represented.

Junior Senator of Arizona Indicted

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Phoenix, Arizona, Oct. 25.—Information regarding the specific offense or offenses on which the charge of perjury was based in the indictment returned against Ralph H. Cameron, junior United States senator from Arizona, by the last federal grand jury here, still was lacking this morning.

Both Judge Wm. H. Sawtelle, presiding over the United States district court here and Thomas H. Flynn, United States district attorney declared that they could not discuss the matter until Attorney General Daugherty at Washington had authorized them to do so.

The fact that the indictment was returned was learned yesterday when an entry relating to the matter was found in the minute book of the court. The entry stated that the indictment charged Senator Cameron "with violation of Section 125 of the penal code, 1910—perjury."

CONTINUOUS SESSION OF SENATE TO GET TAX BILL ENACTED

G. O. P. Members Agree to Round Robin to Keep Quorum.

BULLETIN.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Oct. 25.—Normal tax rates of four per cent on the first $4,000 of income and eight per cent on all over that amount were approved today by the senate without a record vote. These are the rates now in force.

The committee amendment proposing these rates, which the Democrats sought to amend yesterday without success, was approved within a minute after the senate met. There was no discussion and the amendments which Senator Trammell, Democrat of Florida, promised yesterday would be offered, failed to materialize.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Oct. 25.—The senate returned today to its now bitter fight over the tax revision bill, with Republican leaders planning to force continuous sessions, beginning tomorrow, until the measure is passed and the Democrats generally opposed to what they regard as an unprecedented procedure.

If the proposed resolution, calling for continuous sessions is presented tomorrow, as promised by Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, in charge of the tax measure, a determined fight against it is expected from the minority side. In this connection, the question had been raised whether the debate on it would not delay the final vote on the tax measure beyond the time that it probably could be had by carrying out the original Republican plan of night sessions.

"A round robin," pledging Republican senators to be within call day and night for votes on the measure continued to circulate today among the majority members of the senate and its sponsors hoped to have 49 signers—a majority of the senate—before the day ended. The "round robin" is in this language:

"We, the undersigned Republican senators, agreed that beginning Wednesday, Oct. 26, we shall remain continuously in the capital, or within call, for quorum calls for a vote until the pending tax bill is finally disposed of."

The "round robin" was put in circulation yesterday, during a hot wrangle about debate on the tax measure. Charges from the Republican side that there had been "irrelevant talk" were denied by the Democrats, who in turn charged that the Republicans had agreed among themselves to force through the compromise revision plan regardless of argument or fact.

At conferences later between spokesmen for the majority and minority the Democrats were understood to have agreed to a limitation of debate. They said an agreement for a final vote was out of the question, as unanimous consent would be refused both by individual Republicans and Democratic senators.

Meantime, the majority has decided to keep a quorum on hand night and day and thus prevent a recess or adjournment. They thought a few days and night of continuous meeting would force an agreement for a vote.

the four brotherhoods and the switchmen's union reiterating previous announcements that all general chairmen are expected to attend the hearing starting here tomorrow.

Chairman Barton made public telegrams exchanged with the brotherhood leaders as given to the Associated Press at Cleveland and announced he had sent the following answer:

"All parties have been notified to appear. The board desires and expects their presence."

W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen telegraphed the board this morning, saying:

"My understanding is either party can be represented by counsel and that all railroad executives will not be present in person. Please wire me if my understanding is not correct."

Mr. Barton's general message followed.

Prepare for Conference.

Railway executives meet here today and leaders of the big five brotherhood leaders in Cleveland in final conferences before their joint appearance at the railroad labor board tomorrow which the board hopes will lead to a peaceful settlement of the strike called for next Sunday.

The Coliseum, scene of many national political conventions and other notable gatherings, was obtained by the board for the hearings beginning Wednesday to accommodate the hundreds of railroad employees and executives and the public. A statement issued by the board expressed "great reason to hope that the strike will be averted." No plan of settlement will be presented by the board, it was understood, but must come either from the brotherhoods or the executives.

The signalmen, last of the railroad unions to reach its decision, announced yesterday that it would not follow the brotherhoods in their strike. President E. J. Manion of the telegraphers asserted his union still adhered to its strike call, leaving it alone allied with the big five to strike.

CHIEFS DENY DECOR.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Cleveland, O., Oct. 25.—Prior to their return to Chicago tonight, where on Wednesday they will appear before the United States Railroad-Labor Board in answer to citation, the "Big Five" railroad transportation chiefs continued their conference today on matters pertaining to the strike situation.

The "Big Five" leaders discount intimations that there is discord between the organizations that have authorized their members to withdraw from the service and those withholding such authorization.

HAYS MAKES PLANS.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Oct. 25.—Will H. Hays, postmaster general, left Chicago for Washington today after conferring with postal officials here regarding the movement of the mails in case of a rail tie-up. Every effort would be made to move the mails, he said.

"A survey has been made showing the number of men in the various states with experience in operating cars and mail," he added. "If the emergency comes, these men will be drafted into service as in wartime."

FOURTH DAY OF STRIKE.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Palestine, Tex., Oct. 25.—The strike on the International & Great Northern Railroad of some six hundred brakemen and switchmen, members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, entered its fourth day quietly with company officials expressing the opinion that freight service would be further extended today.

Body of "Unknown" is Eu Route Home

Havre, Oct. 25.—(By the Associated Press.) The flag draped casket containing the symbol of America's unsung fighters set sail westward this afternoon, to find a resting place in the national cemetery at Arlington. Hundreds of bunches of flowers, tokens of esteem of French peasants, were banked on all sides of the casket, around which were held simple but impressive ceremonies just before the cruiser put out to sea.

Airplane-Used to Run Down a Bandit

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Oct. 25.—A bandit, believed to be Nicholas Wiedner, was besieged in a small house on the outskirts of Chicago by police this morning after both automobiles and airplane had been used to run him down.

This was the first instance in Chicago's history where police have taken to the air in a man hunt.

The man yesterday afternoon attempted to hold up Joseph E. Shelton, a truck driver, and shot him five times.

Policeman William Mulcahy at the Ashburn Field was notified. He enlisted the aid of Aviator James Curran and the two followed the fugitive to a vacant house. Early today he was holding police, armed with high powered rifles, at bay.

GOOD ACTIONS BRING REWARD

GLEN ELLISON TO SING HIS SCOTCH SONGS

If you pine for the romance of "the old days," don't fail to hear Glen Ellison, baritone, and Alta Hill, pianist, on Oct. 28th, at M. E. church. One song will be enough to bring up a picture of the wild adventures of the fierce black-haired Danes, or the gentler pursuits of the sandy MacGregors. For there is a true Scotch burr on Glen Ellison's tongue, that will make even a good American song smell of heather.

Few artists before the musical world today can interpret the Scotch songs with real understanding of the emotional intensity underneath the Scotch reserve. Glen Ellison is one of the few.

They were a romantic lot, those Scotchmen, even if they would have you think otherwise. And nobody knows that better than Mr. Ellison. His clear sweet baritone is admirably suited to the pure melody of those beautiful old songs. He sings them with a deep and tender sympathy that brings out all the poignant sweetness that is indigenous to them. He has a wealth of splendid feeling at his command, and it shows to best advantage in these romantic times.

October 28th will give Mr. Ellison's devotees a chance to hear him. He is in finer voice than ever and the concert promises to be a big event. Mr. Ellison sang here a few years ago and made many warm friends. Cards of admittance to this concert may be obtained from the Kennedy Music Co., Dixon, Ill.

SOMETHING ABOUT THE STYLES IN WOMEN'S WEAR

The styles this year in women's wear are very attractive, especially is this true of suits, cloaks and dresses.

The styles in cloaks are very attractive. The materials used principally are Bolivia, Evoria, Normandy, Ramona, Polivanna and Velour. Colors are largely black, brown and navy with black predominating. The models are both wrappy and belted. Fur trimmings are in wolf, beaver, squirrel and mole. Scroll embroidery adds a touch of style and beauty that, with the fur trimmings, makes very attractive garments.

Women's suits shown in tricotine, deuvet-de-laine, tan-ve-laine, velours, pique twills and serges. They are made plain and fur trimmed with fancy lining. A new feature is fur cuffs. Embroidery in scroll patterns is also used extensively and the colors are brown, navy and black with brown the leader. Some are also trimmed with braids. The furs used for trimming women's suits are wolf, beaver, squirrel and mole. The styles are tailored models with skirts a trifle longer, about ten inches from the ground and the jackets are finger-tip length, a little longer than last year and ranging in length from thirty-two to forty inches. Some are belted and others have the loose box effect.

VISITED DIXON FRIENDS SUNDAY

A Word to the Wise

"In March I was called to the bedside of my sister in Brewton, Alabama. She was given up to die and was almost dead. Talked in a whisper. Doctors said nothing but an operation would save her and she was too weak for that. Her color was yellow as a pumpkin and she was filled with gas. That day I heard of May's Wonderful Remedy and went and got a bottle for her. In three weeks she was able to be about and walked a mile to church. I am praising your medicine to everyone." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. ROCKFORD TEAM WANTS ANOTHER DIXON CONTEST

Register-Gazette Comments on Wolverines' Victory

Since the smoke of Sunday's defeat, by the Rockford Wolverines has cleared away, it is indicated that the victorious organization would like to meet the Dixon American Legion football eleven in another game this season. The sporting editor of the Rockford Register-Gazette, has the following to say with reference to Sunday's defeat:

"Rockford fans are commencing to sit up and take notice of the gridiron antics of Morry Miller's Wolverines. They took the touted American Legion team of Dixon into camp Sunday on the Dixon field too, thereby giving Dixon its first setback of the season. The score was 13 to 3.

"Dixon fandom was eager to make wagers on the home team before the game and were quite willing to quote odds. Victories over Rock Island, Davenport and other teams by top-heavy scores created an impression in that town that the Dixon team was practically unbeatable.

"The Wolverines won largely because they refused to give up when the half found them three points behind. After losing the ball on downs near their goal line, Bengston broke through and blocked Benson's kick, Carlson falling on it for a touchdown. Later Sundquist intercepted a forward pass and raced sixty yards to his goal for the second Rockford touchdown.

"The playing of Emil Johnson at end, 'King' Wollman at center and Bolling in the backfield shone up for the visitors. Earl Gilfillan, the fleet ex-Notre Dame star, could not get away for his usual long gains, the Wolverines having a special defense for him. It is very likely that the Dixon team will want to play the Wolverines again."

BANNER OF FORMER GERMAN EMPIRE IS MOST IN EVIDENCE

Flag of New Republic is Seldom Seen in Germany Now.

BERLIN.—The black, red and gold flag of the German republic is less in evidence than any other of the dozen or more official emblems which wave from houses of every town and city of the country. The most popular banner is the black, white and red of the former empire.

In some provinces and in a number of towns the republican flag has never been flown, is not recognized, and cannot be purchased.

Even in Berlin, seat of the government, the flying standards of the empire outnumber those of the republic, which appear generally to be restricted to necessary official use or to popular demonstrations in favor of the new regime.

The red flag of the Communists usually flies side by side with the republican colors during any popular parades or manifestations.

In some quarters this situation has caused agitation against monarchical propagandists and here and there has resulted in fights between the police and adherents of the monarchy or between monarchists and republicans, but on the whole it has passed unnoticed.

The only definite effort to prevent the use of the flag of the republic has come from the mercantile interests, which are strenuously seeking authority to retain their old colors—the flag of the empire with the outline of an iron cross in the upper right hand corner. It is argued this flag was known in nearly every part of the world before the war and that its abandonment would handicap German shipping, which is seeking with all available means to regain its pre-war prestige.

The government has indicated that a referendum may soon be held to permit the people generally to decide whether the demand of the mercantile interests should be granted.

Each German state holds proudly to its old colors—the black-white of Prussia, the blue-white of Bavaria, the green-white of Saxony, and, among

THE GREATEST CYNIC

Cynicism is trying to come back into style. It's born of the fashion for epigrams. You find it in the new plays, the latest novels, the movie subtitles—even occasionally in the Congressional Record.

But today's cynics are types compared with Sir Henry Wotton, who, back in the 16th century, enunciated these cynical epigrams and paradoxes:

"The one charm of marriage is that it makes a life of deception absolutely necessary for both parties."

"Being natural is simply a pose,
and the most irritating pose I know."
"Conscience and cowardice are really the same things. Conscience is the trade-mark of the firm."

"Those who are faithful know only the trivial side of love; it is the faithless who know love's tragedies."

"The only way to get rid of a temptation is to yield to it."

"The things one feels certain about are never true."

"The cynic sacrifices sincerity to smartness. He mistakes the flash of his wit for the sun-glow of truth."

"Nothing is never quite true," said Lord Henry. "Modern morality consists in accepting the standard of one's age."

Lord Henry—can't you place him?
Well, he was responsible for the suicide of Dorian Gray, the heartbreak and self-destruction of the youthful actress Sylvia Vane, the murder of the artist Basil Hallward, the accidental shooting of James Vane, and more.

*cw did Lord Henry accomplish this? By words. "More words! How terrible they were! How clear, and vivid, and cruel! One could not escape from them. And yet what a truth there was in them! More words! Was there anything so real as words?"

"Cynicism is mostly immoral; epigrams are mostly lies."

The cynic with his epigram tries to cheat the truth. He always cheats himself; sometimes he cheats others.

Immortality? Well, Sir Henry Wot-ton—the world's greatest cynic—was the character, the mouthpiece of Oscar Wilde in his novel, "The Picture of Dorian Gray." The cynicisms you've read above are the cynicisms of Wilde, the English author whose unmentionable crimes brought him to a felon's cell.

Lies? Test his rapier-like word-thrusters with the test of common sense.

Is nothing ever quite true? Your father's protection, your mother's love, your loyalty to your school, your devotion to your religion, your friendship?

Scratch a cynic and you'll find either a sephard or a sorehead!

ILLINI STADIUM

We notice with gratification that the alumni and friends of the University of Illinois are organizing vigorously in order to put over the Stadium drive. Every day we hear of new committees being appointed, of new chairmen, of new meetings. They are alive, ambitious and full of loyalty.
We are gratified at scenes of such activity because we believe that the hope and salvation of American universities lies in intelligent and active interest on the part of alumni.

The success of Yale, of Harvard, of Princeton and all the other great Eastern universities is due mainly to the fact that as a man graduates his interest in his alma mater increases.
It is the alumni who gave Yale its Stadium, Harvard its Bowl. It is the alumni who keep great professors instructing in the various departments of all eastern universities. Our western universities are entitled to similar distinction. Our western universities, particularly our state universities stand more definitely for the ideal of democracy than any other institution these United States have as yet developed.

It is, therefore, a matter of profound interest to observe that alumni are organizing, are showing eagerness about a project of their alma mater. Alumni of other western universities are equally alive and are getting more and more vitally interested in the development of the growth of their universities. We want to see them become even more active than they are at present. We want our city to be a seething hive of alumni clubs of every university which is represented here. We want competition, rivalry, good humored and active.

Again, therefore, let us congratulate the alumni of the University of Illinois on the new life they are showing and let us extend them our best wishes for the success of the Stadium project and hope they continue as interested in the Stadium project as they are today.

WORK

Forty-six out of every 100 inhabitants of Chicago work in "gainful occupations"—meaning for pay—says a census analysis. That includes everyone, from baby to grandpa.

Compare that situation which probably is typical of most cities, with conditions 50 or even 25 years ago, when a woman in business was an exception.

Every American seems to be reaching out for financial independence.
The ancient job of "father and support of the family" is going to the museum.

BURDEN

Here's an average family of five, living in New York. How much of a tax burden does it have to carry?
Five hundred and forty dollars a year
—$250 for Uncle Sam, the rest in state and municipal taxes. That's what the Real Estate Board of New York tells Congress.

Nearly as much as the average family's normal income!

You can load a lot of straw on a camel, but finally the last straw will break the camel's back. Cutting taxes by reducing government spending, is not only urgent, it's an absolute necessity.

LITTLE THINGS

A clerk in the postoffice department has responded to the postmaster's general's request for suggestions as to how to economize in the public service as follows:

"Every time a man or woman in the government service withholds a requisition for a pencil, a pad of paper, a ball of twine, a pen, or any other piece of equipment which, upon second thought, he realizes he does not need, has by that act really done as good work as if he had put the money value of the article into the public treasury. Small economies by each, when multiplied by the thousands, will result in great savings."

The postmaster general was so im-

What do you want out of living?
What is your hope and your dream?
Think of it, plan for it, work all you can for it.
Use all your vigor and steam!
Never be swayed from your purpose.
Pick your objective and climb;
Keep at it, keep at it!
Keep doggedly at it
Alltime, kid, alltime!

You may not get all that you wanted.
Success may escape from your clutch.
But if you don't yearn for it, strive
for it, burn for it,
You'll never get anything much;
Keep on and you cannot fail wholly.
At least you will touch the sublime!

Keep at it, keep at it!
Keep doggedly at it
Alltime, kid, alltime!

The dream's not enough—you must

With constant, unwavering will,
Go after it, fret for it, labor and Use all your cunning and skill;

It's just an old truth that I'm

But nevertheless it's the keep to suc-

Keep at it, keep at it,
Keep doggedly at it

not, as is done in older and more enlightened republics. Tra-la-la!

CONFESSIONS OF A MOVIE STAR

Chapter VIII

THE SCANDAL OF BARNESVILLE Cissy Sheldon slipped out of my mind for that week end.

Visions of a summertime in a New England town faded in and faded out while Motherdeer renewed the tepid bandages upon my eyeballs.

Nandy's notion about the poverty
of romance in my past was all wrong.
Any girl of 16 has had one dream romance at least. I had had nine—and Dick Barnes' voice over the phone brought it back to me with painful vividness.

The previous summer I had visited the Vermont home of my Revolutionary ancestors for the first time.
And there I had met Jimmy Alcott.
With the money I had saved from my first year's work as a star, I had purchased the farm my forebears had surveyed 150 years ago.

The town of Barnesville touched the boundary of my farm.

Jimmy that summer never learned that I was a movie actress. It was part of my vacation plan that nobody should have a chance to talk shop to me.

Now Jimmy's father was the town's "whole show" financially. He owned the quarries. He owned the banks and even the railroad spur which carried his marble to the main line.

I cut back several times to a certain scene: Jimmy—moonlight—
a yellow Persian cat—and I!

There was a most exciting "chase"
after my feline. Motherdeer, tired of the pursuit and sure that the cat would come back, retreated to a refuge in the corner of the veranda.

(To be Continued)

(Copyright, 1921, N. E. A. Service.)

Jimmy and I pursued his majesty, Smilodon, but couldn't catch him. Instead, Jimmy caught me as we emerged from opposite sides of the shrubbery and reached for the cat between us.

Smilodon evaded us and made a beautiful lazy leap to a low bough, poised there yawning his tail gracefully and eyeing us indulgently.

Jimmy reached for him, clutched
him and was badly scratched.
We landed the reprobate over to Motherdeer and then I washed Jimmy's wounds at the old fountain under the trees, and there we sat and talked in the moonlight—until Motherdeer called me!

I could swim and row and ride with the boys. I had gone to high school with them and to dancing school—and they were all alike to me. Just boys! But Jimmy Alcott was different.

Perhaps it was because Jimmy was older—10 years older than I.

Jimmy had been as much a part of that summer as the view or the air or the trees. He came to see us daily.
When he failed to appear one evening, Motherdeer was a little disturbed.

I might as well know the rumor,
she said. Jimmy's father was having some business troubles. Due to the general financial slump, probably Jimmy would explain. I mustn't be fussy.

But Jimmy Alcott never did explain. I never saw him again.

Inside of a week, a dreadful scandal rocked the little town of Barnesville.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

NICK FINDS A BOTTLE

"Then," said the Cap'n, "fill this bottle, will you?"

"I have some more work for you, kiddies," said Cap'n Pennywinkle to the Twins, when they had returned from the Fairy Queen's Palace after taking her the lost bag of gold. "I hear that the sharks are plotting against nice big Mr. Whale. One of them couldn't harm him, he is so big,
but if they get together, they're a mean lot. If they would stay under the sea, I could settle them by showing them by magic badge and shaking my magic stick at them, but the terrible fellows stay mostly on top and I can't do a thing. Do you want to help?"

"Yes, sir," spoke up Nick. "We should like to ever so much, shouldn't we, Nancy?"

Nancy said yes, because the teacher had told them in school how useful Mr. Whale was. And she'd also told them that sharks were wicked.
"Well, then," said Cap'n Pennywinkle, "I'll call the cuttle-fish and Nick, you run and get me a bottle."

Thereupon he blew on his whistle, and fifty Wigglefin people came hurrying at once to see what was wanted, among them Mr. Cuttlefish.

"Wait here, Cuttle," nodded the fairymen. "I want you. The rest of you may go home." So Mr. Cuttlefish stayed 'round while the others swam away.

Pretty soon Nick returned with a bottle. It was one that Mr. Grouchy Grumpalong had thrown overboard on an ocean trip one time after he had taken all of his rheumatism pills. It came in handy now, although so far the little boy hadn't any idea what the fairymen wanted it for, or why it should be useful in serving Mr. Whale from the sharks.

"Now then, Cuttle," said the Cap'n, "got any nice black ink?"
"Lots," answered the cuttlefish.
"Then," said the Cap'n, "fill this bottle, will you?"

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

VACCINATIONS

BY R. R. BISHOP JR., M. D.

Civilization has learned through long, bitter experience that epidemics and plagues can be prevented only through the absolute co-operation of every person in every community.

But even expert sanitary methods fail against such a disease as small-pox. It was not until science discovered vaccine for smallpox, that this disease lost its virulence against whole nations. Until this simple preventive was hit upon, thousands and thousands of people died of the dreaded plague.

Vaccination made smallpox almost obsolete. Yet carelessness and the rarity of the disease are bringing it back. This because people get off getting vaccinated or are altogether indifferent.

Vaccination is not dangerous. Over 3,000,000 persons were vaccinated in the last two years in this country without a single death.

The method consists in introducing vaccine virus into the skin, causing what is known as vaccinia. A small pimple or sore appears in three or four days; the skin around becomes red, slightly swollen and tender. In ten or twelve days, a scab forms and soon drops off. There may be a slight headache or fever.

In some cases, vaccination is not successful the first time, in which cases there is no sore and the treatment should be repeated.

Since vaccination is the only sure preventive of smallpox, it is essential that one should be vaccinated early in life. A baby should be vaccinated during its first year and again at the age of ten. After two successful vaccinations, immunity usually lasts a life time. However, if one is exposed to smallpox and has not had the disease, he should be vaccinated at once unless he has undergone the treatment within the past five years.

Vaccination is a form of health insurance that pays many thousands of dividends in preventiveness.

"AUDACITY AND FAITH"

BY DR. WM. E. BARTON.

The phrase "audacity and faith" I caught my eye and I rather liked it.
I wondered if most readers who saw it where I saw it would think it a misplaced coordination. Have faith and audacity anything in common? Is not faith passive, submissive and something whose quality is the reverse of audacity?

I did not find the word in a treatise on religion. It is in Arnold Bennett's book entitled "Your America."

We criticize Englishmen for touring America in a fortnight and going back to tell Englishmen what sort of country America is; but this book, based on a tour of that kind, was written for Americans.

Mr. Bennett was speaking about Chicago's magnificent system of parks and boulevards. He did not like Chicago's streets, and I do not blame him. He did not think Chicago at all realized her own possibilities, and I think he is right.

He said Chicago had no proper rally point, and she needs it. He is right about that; and the congestion of Chicago's iron-bound loop is an abomination and a peril.

I who live there may be permitted to say that which Mr. Bennett did not say. But he said that Chicago's boulevard system "discloses a tremendous audacity and faith."

He is right.
And he mentions with a sense of solemnity the turning of its river up stream.

Every American city represents in its best achievements a combination of audacity and faith.

The faith that removes mountains is visible in America's tunnels and bridges, her railways and commerce.
Business is not done on any other basis than that of faith.

WILLIAM E. BARTON.

Business depression is a lack of confidence, that is to say, a lack of faith. Business success is invariably a triumph of faith.

Mr. Bennett is right not only of Chicago but of every American city.
What is there discloses is "a tremendous audacity and faith."

A New Kind of Girl

THE old fashioned girl is gone, deplore her passing as we will. The modern girl has not yet found herself and her actions at times have given cause for alarm, but there are indications that the flapper stage is drawing to its close and a new kind of girl is in the making.

One of those indications is the Girl Scout movement which this week celebrates its ninth year with a membership of 110,000. The Girl Scout has three aims: To have a strong, healthy body, to be a good homemaker and a good citizen.

There is no shirking of the issues of life in that triple aim. Whatever one is or does, health is a matter of first importance. Homes are changing and no man can say what the home of the future will be, but for the next generation at least it is safe to predict that homemaking will continue to be woman's job. And citizenship is a new duty which the woman of tomorrow will undertake as a matter of course.

Consequently, the Girl Scout builds up her body by wholesome outdoor life. Thirty thousand Girl Scouts were in camp this summer. Competition for the coveted merit badges which decorate her uniform lends zest to caring for baby brother and in learning to cook and sweep and sew—homely tasks which otherwise would be scorned. And as for citizenship, there is no better preparation than actual participation in civic work such as being responsible for certain districts in Clean Up Week, helping the Red Cross and other community organizations by volunteer messenger and first aid and many other activities in which the Girl Scouts are making a record of service.

A nation whose womanhood rests upon a solid foundation such as this is a nation founded upon a rock. But the organization needs more than kind words to give Scout training to all the girls who are clamoring for membership. We urge it upon our readers to supply the funds and the leaders to meet the demands of this new kind of American girl.

BODY OF "UNKNOWN" SELECTED FOR HONOR BY AMERICAN PEOPLE

Casket Picked from Four Brought from Battle Field Cemetery.

Chalons-sur-Marne, Oct. 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—America's "Unknown Soldier," who will find an honored resting place in the national cemetery at Arlington, Va., was chosen here this morning. The ceremony of selecting the casket to be taken to America took place in the little improvised chapel in the city hall here and in keeping with a request from the United States government was simple and brief.

Sergeant Edward F. Younger of Chicago, Ill., was handed a small bouquet of white and pink roses by American officers present, and advanced to the little chapel, passing through a line of French troops. Four caskets had been placed in the chapel by a contingent brought here from Coblenz. Every one had been asked to leave the chapel before Sergeant Younger entered. He walked slowly around the four caskets three times, then stopped and placed the roses on the casket facing the entrance to the chamber. He then turned, facing the entrance, saluted and reported to the American officers that he had made his selection. While the ceremony was going on, a French military band played the Dead March from "Saul."

French Pay Tribute.

The casket was then removed to another room and prepared for its trip to America. General Dubois, commanding the French Sixth Army Corps; Major General Harry L. Rogers, quartermaster of the American army on the Rhine, and Colonel Harry F. Rogers of the American Graves Registration Service were present. There were also a number of American officers from Coblenz at the city hall and several companies of French infantry rendered military honors.

The only words spoken at the ceremony were by General Dubois who said:

"The French army feels honored to pay a simple and loving tribute to the American unknown soldier."

Later the casket of the American warrior was placed in the rotunda of the city hall, which was decorated with American flowers and flags. The casket was draped in an American flag, the only flowers on it being the little bouquet which was used by Sergeant Younger in making the selection of the body.

SUBLETTE MAN LETS HOGS DO WORK FOR HIM

Joe Long Has Hog Business Down to a Science.

Joe Long of Sublette township has the hog business down to a science. He uses them to hog down corn and also to harvest the hay crop as green feed. Joe has a rotation of corn, oats and clover and hogs down one and sometimes both fields of corn and about half or more of the clover. The pigs are farrowed in April and in a central hog house, but are soon turned out on the clover meadow. Little grain is fed during the summer, but toward fall they are given more corn and about Sept. 15, turned into the corn. Tankage is fed in self feeders, and plenty of water is furnished in self waterers. The individual houses used and the cheaply constructed shade are all put in the center and farther corners of the field. Joe has found that if he puts the hog waterer at some distance from the houses the hogs clean up the clover better.

In addition to securing maximum gains at reasonable cost, Joe's method keeps hogs healthy and free of parasites. Joe can tell you to a pound how many pounds of pork he has sold and almost to a dollar how much it cost the receipts. Joe says that hogs pay and, furthermore, that pure bred hogs pay much better than grades. His pure bred sows that were bought about four years ago are still on the farm and have been good producers.

It is from this parent stock that Joe tries to save his gilts each year. Mr. Long believes in making the hogs do the work and believes, furthermore, that they can do the work cheaper and better than he or hired help can do it and at a profit if there is any profit in raising hogs at all. Joe has come to the conclusion that hogs provide one of the safest ways of selling crops that there is.

SUCCESS OF IRISH PEACE CONFAB NOT POSSIBLE IS FEAR

DeValera's Note to Pope
May Block Continuation, Report.

BULLETIN

London, Oct. 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—The view was expressed at Sinn Fein headquarters this forenoon that the crisis in the Irish conference was over for the present.

The Daily Eireann representatives, who said last night that if the negotiations were broken off today they would return to Ireland tonight, were this morning making no preparations to leave.

London, Oct. 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—Prime Minister Lloyd George, answering a question in the house of commons today regarding Eamon De Valera's message to Pope Benedict said the publication of Mr. De Valera's message, especially in the middle of the peace negotiations, constituted a grave challenge.

"The position of the government on the question involved in that telegram has been made abundantly clear," the premier continued. "We do not propose to recede from it and the conference cannot proceed on any other basis."

London, Oct. 24.—Grave anxiety over the possibility of negotiations between the British government and Sinn Fein, Ireland, continued to a successful conclusion was felt here today. The conference between members of the British cabinet and representatives of the Daily Eireann was resumed, but there was evidence a feeling that the situation was such as to give ground for concern among those hopeful for an adjustment of the Irish controversy.

TELEGRAM MIX-UP, FATHER, SON FEAR EACH OTHER KILLED

Mistake in Name Cause of Anxiety on Part of Both.

Mix-ups in press dispatches caused a number of anxious hours yesterday for two families, one in Rockford and the other in LaGrange, Ore.

When the news of a fatal crossing accident at Milford, Ill., in which four University of Chicago students were killed, reached here, the name of Herbert Hopkins, of Portland, Ore., was listed among the victims.

George C. Hopkins, of LaGrange, who is visiting his sister, Mrs. H. H. Hopkins, 1403 Harlem avenue, was appraised of the accident by neighbors who thought the crash victim might be his son.

"I left Herbert in LaGrange; he's all right," Mr. Hopkins replied to the inquiries, although the first rumors caused some concern.

Thought Father Dead.

Shortly before 9 o'clock last night a telegram came from Herbert Hopkins, addressed to his aunt here, stating:

"Have you heard of accident. How badly is father hurt?"

In the transmission of the dispatch to the Pacific coast, the name of Geo.

Hopkins had in some way been substituted for that of Herbert Hopkins and the message which reached LaGrange merely said that George Hopkins of Oregon had been killed in a grade crossing accident.

Mr. Hopkins at once telegraphed his wife that he met only was uninjured, but that he had not been in any wreck.

Subsequently it was learned that the accident victim's name was Herschel Hopkins, of Portland, Ore. Rumors that he lived in Ogle county were false.

THE FLAVOR LASTS

Women of Middle Age

THE critical stage of a woman's life usually comes between the years of 45 and 55, and is often beset with annoying symptoms such as nervousness irritability, melancholia, heat flashes which produce headache and dizziness, and a sense of suffocation. Guard your health carefully, for if this period be passed over safely, many years of perfect health may be enjoyed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted to help women through this crisis. It exercises a restorative influence, tones and strengthens the system, and assists nature in the long weeks and months covering this period. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and contains no harmful drugs or narcotics. Its value is proven by many such letters as these:

Afton, Tenn.—"I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. During Change of Life I was in bed for 18 months and had good care, but did not improve. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and in a short time I felt better. That was five years ago, and now when I feel run down and nervous I take the Compound and it always does me good. I wish all women would try it during Change of Life, for I know it will do them good."—Mrs. A. KELLER, Afton, Tenn.

Thomas, Okla.—"I first used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my girlhood days, by the advice of a friend. At the age of 47 I was troubled with dizziness, hot flashes, and became very weak so that I was unable to do any work. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with the result that I felt better and stronger than I have for years. I have also given it to my three daughters, and always with good results. The Vegetable Compound is certainly grand for the ills of women."—Mrs. J. G. SWAREY, Route B, Thomas, Okla.

Thinking of Tomorrow

Q If by some magic the curtain of the future might be drawn back and you could see life as it will be ten or twenty years from today—where would you be?

Q You know the answer. The men and women who will then have the most independence and influence in our community will be the ones who today think and plan most wisely for the tomorrows—and hold themselves ready to take advantage of every opportunity that comes.

Q Nothing will help you more, five or ten years from now, than the dollars you can save by starting today—and you can save best by getting some bank to co-operate with you. As members of the Federal Reserve Banking System we are prepared to co-operate with you in every way. Let us show you how to save and to make your money work for you.
